Zac Hall: Ring 1

Zac Hall earned his Bachelor of Science in animal science with minors in agriculture business and food safety from North Dakota State University before pursuing his Master of Science Degree in ruminant nutrition with a focus on reproductive physiology at the University of Nebraska – Lincoln.

He is active in his family's cattle operation, Hall Stock Farm, near Berthold, N.D. where they raise registered Angus and Sim-Angus cattle. The Hall family will host their tenth annual bull sale the fourth Tuesday in March 2025.

Zac served as a volunteer 4-H and FFA livestock judging coach, he has guided four teams representing N.D. in national competitions where several teams and individuals earned recognition.

After ten years of corporate sales and marketing experience, Hall created Forté Livestock, a photography and consulting service focused on marketing and promoting cattle and assisting cattle producers with the tasks associated with maintaining records and data management. Most recently, he accepted a job with Zoetis Pet Care and relocated to Golden Valley, Minn. where he services vet clinics in southern and western Minnesota.
